PETER CHAU NGUYEN

AGE: 40

OCCUPATION: Cultural Arts Commissioner/Business Consultant

Over the past decade I have been an advocate for the youth of our community. I truly believe that anyone who's involved with children's growth and development has a better chance of making a positive difference in a Child's academic achievements.

I am a concerned parent of a daughter, who will be entering kindergarten next year. Everyday brings new set of challenges to our students. As you know one day can change a person's life forever. We must concentrate on teaching students the correct skill types to cope with all of life challenges.

We must truly live by the words "No Child Left Behind". The cost of leaving one child behind is ten times higher than spending some time and resources to bring them back up to speed.

We need to get our young people out from behind the TV or video games and involved in more school sanctioned activities.

We live in the greatest state of the greatest country in the world. We need to open our children's eyes to their surroundings and the possibility that anything is possible.

Vote for me and let me be your children's voice to the Westminster School District!
